

ALMOST A MILLION
GOES UP IN SMOKE

LIVES AND PROPERTY SACRIFICED IN PHILADELPHIA.

Three Men Feared to Have Been Burned to Death—Flames Start in a Box Factory and Spread Rapidly Newark Has a Loss of Half a Million Dollars.

Philadelphia, August 12.—A fierce fire raged in the central portion of the city this forenoon, many business blocks burning. Several lives are reported lost. Bailey & Brown's box was the first building destroyed and it was back of this that the flames started. Three men are believed to have been caught in the box factory when the roof fell. The fire is the heaviest the city has seen for twenty years. The region around Franklin and Willow streets counts its loss at three-quarters of a million dollars.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 12.—Fire broke out in the plant of the Central Stamping Company yesterday afternoon, damaging it to the extent of $500,000; insured for half that amount. Almost the entire plant of the Central Stamping Company was destroyed. The other losses will aggregate $300,000.

The flames were discovered about 2 o'clock in a blacksmith shop. A general alarm was sent out and within twenty minutes every piece of fire apparatus in the city was on the scene. Despite the tons of water thrown on the fire, the flames gained headway, and within an hour after the first alarm was sounded the roofs of the building were masses of fire. The flames shot a hundred feet in the air at times and big burning brands were carried for blocks by the wind. These brands, some of them many inches in length, were carried onto the roofs of buildings a considerable distance away and the chemical engine was kept on the rush from one street to another putting out the smaller fires. Firemen were stationed on the roofs for several blocks with water in pails and extinguishers to put out the small fires. Less than an hour after the first alarm was turned in the walls began to fall. A house at 10 Fair street was crushed beneath the wall next to it. In this house lived Samuel Glesner and his family. The house was flattened by the weight of brick falling upon it, but the family lost but little, as most of their belongings had been removed from the building when the fire broke out.

A house at 28 Liberty street was also caught beneath a falling wall and wrecked. Several other houses were badly damaged by falling timbers and bricks.

When the main wall fell it buried the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad and all traffic on that road was blocked for a time. A number of firemen had narrow escapes from being buried beneath this wall.

Fireman John Van Houghton of Engine Company No. 2 had a narrow escape early in the course of the fire. He had gone to the roof searching for a position from which to direct a stream of water. The roof gave way while he was on it. When he felt it sinking he leaped to the gutter and threw himself over so as to hang from the edge by his hands. The gutter was filled with boiling tar, and although his hands were badly burned, he managed to cling to the roof until rescued.

James Parker, who lives at 15 Hamilton street, was on the roof of his house with buckets watching for sparks. In throwing water on some of them he lost his balance and fell to the ground. He was badly injured about the head, shoulders, and arms, but will recover. Captain Frank Meier of the salvage corps was severely cut about the hands. Many firemen were also badly scorched and blistered by the heat.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Besides the raw material and the finished work destroyed in the stamping establishment, much valuable machinery was ruined. The building belonged to James Aiken & Co., who are also interested in the stamping company. The stamping company started on full time last week and employed 487 men.

Two Small Fires.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 12.—The fertilizer factory of Joshua Horner, Jr., & Co. was burned yesterday. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $50,000.

Hagerstown, Md., Aug. 12.—The burning of M. P. Moller's organ factory yesterday caused a loss of $30,000; insurance, $2,000. Mr. Moller will rebuild.

ENORMOUS WHEAT CROP.

Dazzling Outlook for the Farmers of the Northwest.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 12.—Information received by the grain men in this city indicates that the wheat crop of the three Northwestern states will run from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels more than was expected two weeks ago. Naturally estimates of the yield cover a wide range, but the conservative man who two weeks ago looked for a yield of only 120,000,000 bushels has now added about 20,000,000 bushels to his estimate, while the liberal guesser who originally allowed about 170,000,000 bushels now makes his figure about 170,000,000 bushels. Grain men are generally looking for about 110,000,000 bushels of wheat to be marketed in Duluth and Minneapolis from the next crop, as against about $5,000,000 from the last one, though that aggregate no doubt included a number of millions held over from previous years. The increase in the harvest in the Northwest will be noticeable in other grains than in wheat, for in flax, barley, oats, and corn, as well as in potatoes, there will be an increase over any previous year of from 100 to 200 per cent.

The Monterey Is All Right

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 12.—The report sent out from this city that the Monterey was disabled when she reached this port is emphatically denied.

CROWDS AT LOCKPORT.

Go Out to View the Ruins of Saturday's Big Fire.

Lockport, Ill., Aug. 12.—Everybody in the village of Lockport was standing around yesterday looking at the ruins of the best business district in the place. They were joined by thousands from Joliet, Lemont, Rome, Aurora, Naperville, Willow Springs and from Chicago. Lockport never held such crowds as those that poured in from all the surrounding territory yesterday to gaze over the blackened field. From the talk of regret the discussion soon drifted to what must be done. Before the sun began to go down Mayor McDonald had a list of half a dozen business men who said they were determined to rebuild at once and to erect better structures than those that had burned down. Insurance men and others generally agree that the first figures in regard to the losses and insurance were correct. They say the total loss will be about $225,000 and that the insurance will foot up about $100,000.

MONEY FOR MISSIONS.

Wave of Enthusiasm at a Maine Christian Alliance Meeting.

Old Orchard, Maine, Aug. 12.—At yesterday's Christian Alliance meeting the Rev. Dr. A. B. Simpson of New York said he had prayed long and earnestly that the world's record for giving for foreign missions would be broken before the sun went down, and the figures at the close of the day's services showed that his prayers had not been in vain. One thousand dollars was taken in five minutes by the men passing around the baskets. It was made up of $10 and $50 bills. Watches, rings, diamonds, bracelets and gold buckles were carried to the platform by the basketful, and when the meeting broke up late in the afternoon $75,000 had been given for missionary work.

Desperate Battle with Tramps.

Ashtabula, O., Aug. 12.—Six men had a desperate battle in a box car between Erie, Pa., and this place last night. Three stonecutters, named H. G. Eastlick, Bert Smith and John Meinhardt, boarded the train at Erie to come to Ashtabula. At a water tank three tramps entered the car. When the train had got under way again two of the tramps drew revolvers and asked the men to hand over what money they had. Smith had a revolver and showed fight. Eastlick was shot through the groin. Smith received a wound in the neck and one of the tramps had a bullet through his neck. The tramp, who gave his name as John Cuddy of Waterbury, Conn., is in a critical condition.

Train Hold-Up Frustrated.

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 12.—A repetition of the recent Dover, I. T., express robbery was feared Saturday night, when citizens of that place discovered that armed men were prowling about town. The report had gone out that a large shipment of money for Indian bounties was to go through on the south-bound Rock Island passenger train, and a hold-up seems to have been in contemplation. The train was notified and came through heavily guarded without making a stop. The railroad is taking extraordinary precautions to prevent a successful hold-up.

Party of Lynchers Foiled.

Lebanon, Ky., Aug. 12.—A mob of forty men went to the Springfield jail yesterday morning and demanded of the jailer the keys to the cell of Matthew Lewis and Jesse Ray, who assaulted Mrs. Shields, white, recently. The jailer handed over the keys. After working at the locks and bolts without success they procured sledge hammers and tried to batter down the doors. After hours of hard work they abandoned the job. They then emptied their revolvers into the cell of the jail, but no one was hit.

Three More Bodies Found.

New York, Aug. 12.—Laborers yesterday discovered three bodies in the ruins of the Broadway building which collapsed Thursday. All of them were bodies of men clothed like workmen, but were so battered and mutilated that they could not be identified by friends of the missing who visited the morgue. The death record from the disaster now reaches thirteen and the bottom of the wreck has not been reached.

To Build War Vessels for Japan.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 12.—Japan is evidently preparing for another war. The little island empire wants twenty new war ships, and on Tuesday Irving M. Scott will sail for Japan to secure the contracts for building some of the war vessels. San Francisco is the nearest port to Japan where the ships can be built, and Mr. Scott expects to return with enough contracts to keep his company busy for some time.

End Their Troubles with Death.

Wheelock, Texas, Aug. 12.—Some time ago Lew Smith forged an order for a license, in order to marry Charley Travers's daughter, who was under age. Prosecution for the forgery was being threatened. In order to end the matter and avoid prosecution, Smith got six grains of morphine, carried it home, and he and his child-wife took it. They were found dead in bed in the morning.

Stamping Out Texas Fever.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 12.—The outbreak of splenic, or Texas, cattle fever, in Warren county, this state, and which has caused large losses, is now believed to be under control, and is rapidly abating. Stringent quarantine rules and regulations are being enforced by the county board of health, and a close watch kept over the infected district.

Grade-Crossing Horror.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 12.—A Sunday excursion train on the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad struck a party of pleasure seekers, consisting of James M. Northrup, a speculator, his wife, and 4-year-old child, at the Marsh road crossing yesterday, fatally injuring Mrs. Northrup and seriously injuring both of the other members.

BIG HURLEY BLAZE
JUMPS THE RIVER

FLAMES DESTROY FIVE BUSINESS BUILDINGS.

Starting in Dago Row They Spread With Great Rapidity—Eight Hundred Feet of the Chicago & North-Western Railways Shriveled Up—Appleton Mills Crippled.

Hurley, Aug. 12.—Early this morning flames were discovered coming from the roof of a building near the river in what is commonly called the dago row. The house was once occupied by John Bilzie as a saloon. Five minutes later an alarm of fire was sounded at Ironwood, Mich. sparks having blown across the Montreal river and started a small blaze there. Five store buildings and the Northwestern railroad trestle over the street were burned, and the losses are as follows:

John Andie building, $1500; no insurance.

John Bilzie, stock, $250; no insurance.

Joe Bartlett, buildings damaged, $1500; insurance $500.

Edward O'Neil, stock, $350; no insurance.

Dan Nolan, theater building, and tore building, $6500; no insurance.

F. Penassi, building, $1000; no insurance.

Northwestern railway trestle, eight hundred feet, destroyed.

Cripples Fox River Mills.

Appleton, Wis., Aug. 10.—The decision of the war department in the water power matter causes a great deal of dissatisfaction throughout the Fox River Valley. It means that manufacturing industries must remain crippled until the close of navigation, though the mills are supplying themselves with steam plants as rapidly as possible. Permission has been formerly granted the Appleton Electric Light Company to use power for electric lighting.

Will Try to End the Strike.

Ishepeming, Wis., Aug. 12.—The fourth week of the miners' strike has ended and the fifth week is likely to see the end of the strike. The mining companies will advertise for men, stating wages offered and giving the preference to the old hands if they apply. The steam shovels will be started, and if there is any interference troops will be called for at once. What stand the strikers will take is problematical.

RAILROAD BRIDGE GIVES WAY.

Four Men Killed Under a Heavy Freight Near Bainbridge.

Greenfield, O., Aug. 12.—The bridge across Paint creek on the Ohio Southern railway, near Bainbridge, gave way yesterday under a loaded freight train bound north. Four men were killed—the conductor, engineer, fireman and brakeman. Their names are:

RADCLIFF, CHARLES, engineer.

HAUSER, CHARLES, fireman.

HENRY, GEORGE, the conductor.

BYERS, THOMAS, brakeman.

The bridge, engine and thirty loaded cars all went into the creek. The engine jumped the track at the bridge for some unknown cause. Traffic to Jackson is being conducted over the Baltimore and Ohio. Late at night the bodies of Conductor George Henry and Brakeman Thomas Byers were recovered. The bodies of Engineer Radcliff and Fireman Hauser, both of Jackson, O., are still under the mountain of debris.

Ambrogio the lost freight were ten thoroughbred horses en route to the Springfield races. The loss is over $50,000. Two wrecking trains and crews are at the scene of the disaster. Great excitement was created in Springfield when the news came in, the report getting abroad that it was an excursion train loaded with 600 passengers which had gone down.

ELECTRIC CARS COLLIDE.

Three Persons Badly Injured by a Street Car Collision in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 12.—At 8 o'clock last night two electric cars collided at Fourth and Main streets, seriously injuring three and slightly injuring others. The seriously injured are:

Kramburg, Ben; left arm broken and badly mashed.

Kuntz, John; face and head cut; is in a serious condition.

Toborg, Albert; feet mashed and limbs injured.

The Fort Thomas cars from the west and the Price Hill cars from the east on Fourth street take the same track on Main street, and the collision was there. The Fort Thomas car was demolished and the Price Hill car badly damaged. The other injured were able to be taken to their homes.

Seven Persons Near Death.

The Weirs, N. H., Aug. 12.—The steamer Gypsy, owned by George P. Bartlett of Meredith, was run into and sunk in Long Bay, an arm of Lake Winnepesaukee, by the steamer Mineola late last night. Seven persons, including two women, who were on board the Gypsy, were rescued and taken to Lake Port by the Mineola.

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 12.—Francis Schlader, the "healer," now calmly announces that he is the Christ. Among his callers today was the Rev. Charles L. Boyard and in the course of conversation the minister asked Schlader if he claimed to be Jesus Christ returned to earth. Schlader answered: "I am. Since you have asked me, sir, I say plainly, I am. I am not here to give information, but I will always answer direct questions."

TOWN SWEEP BY THE WIND.

Cyclone Visits Rensselaer, Ind., and Causes Heavy Property Loss.

Rensselaer, Ind., Aug. 12.—A tornado struck this town yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m. and lasted thirty minutes. The storm appeared to be only about a mile wide. It came from the northwest and attained a fearful velocity. Over $20,000 damage was done to property here. Fully fifty dwellings were badly wrecked by being crushed by trees that were blown down upon them.

A panic occurred at a colored camp meeting on the outskirts of the town. The storm, without warning, picked up the tent bodily and left the people in a drenching rain at the mercy of the gale. They protected themselves by clinging to trees and fence posts. It is almost miraculous that none was injured. In the immediate vicinity many trees were torn up by their roots and hurled yards away. One man had hold of a large tree which was finally uprooted, and man and tree were carried away together.

At least one-half of the electric light and telephone wires are down and the town is in darkness. In addition to the more important damages a large number of barns and other minor buildings were wrecked. One stable, containing a cow, was lifted bodily, carried about 200 feet, and landed in a neighboring church yard without injury to the cow and with little damage to the barn. Another stable was carried 100 feet, and landed bottom-side up. A large hay barn without a floor, occupied by a family, and some furniture was transported 100 feet, and left shattered, partly across the railroad track.

At times during the storm there was a fierce fall of hail, which did much damage to the corn crop.

NEBRASKA FEELS IT.

Electric Storm, with Wind, Hail and Rain, Sweeps the State.

Duncan, Neb., Aug. 12.—This entire country was swept by a severe electric storm Saturday night and yesterday, and much damage was done. The high wind was accompanied by hail and rain. The storm was especially severe in Colfax and Platte counties, while adjacent counties suffered severely. The most disastrous results followed in the vicinity of Schuyler. All the glass in the sides of the buildings exposed to the storm was broken. Wires for a distance of fifty miles in all directions were torn down and information secured here from that section was brought in by trains. While the torrents of rain helped crops in some sections, many fields were wholly destroyed by the enormous fall of hail. Streams in all directions overflowed their banks in a few hours, carrying destruction in the valleys. Much railroad property was damaged, traffic being very much interfered with. Washouts are numerous for a distance of fifty miles.

Imperial, Neb., Aug. 12.—Saturday O'Hare county was again visited by a heavy rain, over two inches of water falling. Some hail accompanied it, but as there was no wind no damage was done. This assures the early corn, as it is now in roasting ears, and many farmers say that it will also make the late corn. The ground is in the finest condition ever known in the county, and no fear is entertained of the hot winds.

STORM IN KANSAS.

Heavy Damage by Wind, but No One Hurt.

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 12.—One of the worst wind storms in the history of Southern Kansas passed over Eldorado Saturday night. Trees were leveled to the ground and houses moved off their foundations. So far as heard from nobody was killed or fatally injured. The wind blew down the reservoir tower of the water-works, a half-inch boiler iron stand pipe, 150 feet high and 12 feet in diameter. When it was turned over it contained 140,000 gallons of water. Fortunately it broke about ten feet from the bottom, leaving the water fall through instead of pouring out, in which event it would have swept away all the houses in the neighborhood and killed many persons. Its foundation of solid masonry was destroyed, some of the heavy rocks being found thirty feet from where they were laid in cement. The storm did a great deal of damage to the surrounding country.

Damage in New York State.

Danville, N. Y., Aug. 12.—A terrific rain and wind storm, accompanied by heavy thunder and sharp lightning, passed over this section yesterday, lasting nearly two hours. Many trees were twisted off and blown down. Lightning struck in several places, and much damage was done in the farming community, fields of grain being flattened to the ground and corn being tangled up and blown down. A cloudburst on the Lackawanna caused a bad land slide. The storm is remarkable for the large volume of water that fell in the short space of time, nearly four inches being registered.

At Cleveland, Ohio.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 12.—A sudden storm of wind which passed over Cleveland Saturday night did considerable damage. The big car barns of the Cleveland Electric Railway company, at the suburb of South Brooklyn, were blown down, barns were unroofed, and several giant trees were uprooted. The storm passed east along the lake shore. At Ashtabula four big hoisting machines on the ore docks were blown down, causing a loss of $10,000. Telegraphic communication was interrupted east, but the wires are working all right now.

Mayor Sutro's Generous Gift.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 12.—Adolph Sutro, mayor of San Francisco, has offered the state university regents thirteen acres of land within the city limits on which to erect buildings for the afflicted colleges of the university.

ITALIANS IN A RIOT
BUT NONE WILL DIE

PITTSBURG LABORERS HAVE A HOT FIGHT TODAY.

Street Forces Meet and Do Battle With Tools for Weapons—White Miners Leave Spring Valley For Fear Negroes Will Seek Vengeance.

Pittsburg, August 12.—There was a riot between Italian street laborers this morning. Several of them were injured but none fatally.

Princeton, Ill., Aug. 12.—The situation was quiet in Spring Valley yesterday and the coal shafts will be operated today. The colored policemen are yet on duty and little or no fear of another outbreak is felt. Many Italians are currently reported to have left the city, fearing that arrests on a large scale are about to be made.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 12.—Fifteen hundred miners along the Loup Creek railway struck last night. They claim they were to get paid by the ton and are paid by the mine car, which holds more than is claimed. There has been trouble for some time. The men demand a weighman.

SUNK BY A CYCLONE.

Severe Storm at Baltimore, Md.—Total Damage Will Reach $100,000.

E. W. LOWELL CAUGHT A THIEF AT WORK

THE MADISON MERCAANT CAPTURES A BURGLAR.

Robber Held At the Revolver's Point Until the Police Came and Took Him In Charge—Will Davis' House Entered By a Smooth Thief Sunday Morning.

E. W. Lowell was cool as a cucumber Saturday night. With rare presence of mind he secured a revolver, got the drop on a burglar who had succeeded in opening his office safe, and then, compelling the thief to emerge from his hiding place, held him until Mrs. Lowell could find Chief Acheson.

Alex Porter, an upholsterer, was the thief, and he is now in jail. He claimed that he was forced to steal, as his family were starving, but the police say he has been in trouble before, and is no "spring chicken."

This morning he was brought into the municipal court charged with burglary and held in $800 bonds to appear August 19, at 10 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell went to the hardware store Saturday night, and got there a few minutes after Frank W. Douglas had left. Mrs. Lowell had been acting as cashier at the annex, and when Mr. Lowell stepped into the store to deposit the day's receipts from the annex in the safe, she stood at the outside door waiting for him. He walked around to the safe and found the door open and the cash drawer gone. This struck him as being a little strange, but he thought Miss McDonald, the bookkeeper, might have forgotten to put it in the safe, so he began to look for it.

Found the Thief in Hiding. As Mr. Lowell cast his eye about in the dim light, he saw the cash drawer lying on the floor, and out of one corner of his eye he spied something else. It was something that would cause a man's heart to jump up into his throat and make his face pale.

It was a burglar. Mr. Lowell did not look in the direction of the thief and neither did he lose his nerve. He knew that a 38-caliber revolver was lying in the drawer at the desk but how to get it without aggravating the gentleman under the counter, who doubtless had a revolver without going after another, was the question.

But Mr. Lowell was equal to the emergency.

"I guess we will go home early to-night," he called to Mrs. Lowell. "There is nothing more to do here." Thinking that this remark might allay any suspicions that the thief might have, Mr. Lowell stepped coolly up to the drawer and carefully felt around for the gun. When his hands closed over the rubber handle, he felt much more comfortable, for as yet the shadowy form had not made a move.

"Lie perfectly still or I will send a bullet through you!" he commanded, as he wheeled quickly about and covered the dark mass under the counter with the revolver. "Come out of there and throw up your hands!" was the next command, and the thief obeyed with all possible dispatch.

Chief Acheson Then Came. "You can go out and find an officer," said Mr. Lowell to his wife, who had been the sole audience at the thrilling performance. She obeyed and soon found Chief Acheson who quickly searched the thief and put the chain on his wrist. Porter was not armed but a five dollar bill was found on his person, which he admitted belonged to Mr. Lowell. By this time an immense crowd had gathered about the store and when Chief Acheson emerged from the side door with Porter, they closed in about him.

"Take the chain off me, I'll go with you" said Porter.

"I guess you will," replied the cautious officer. "and you will not get a chance to get away, either." As the procession started down the street Officer Hogan came along and scattered the crowd after which Porter was taken to jail and locked up. He insisted that he had no intention of robbing the store, but simply wanted a little change as he said his family were starving and he had no money and no work. The story, the police think, is a madcap one, as they have Porter's record and say that that it is not the first time that Porter has gotten into trouble, even if it may be his last, for a time, at least.

IT WAS A VERY LUCKY CAPTURE Five Minutes More and Porter Would Have Escaped With $150.

It was a lucky capture, for if Porter had had five minutes more time, he would have secured the $150 that was in the safe and made his escape. He had evidently made up his mind to rob the store, and had made his plans accordingly. When Chief Acheson went up the street a short time before the robbery, he saw Porter standing on the corner by the First National bank. About that time Frank W. Douglas locked up the store and started for home. As he stopped a minute to talk with the street fruit dealer on the corner, he noticed Porter across the street, but naturally thought nothing of it. As Mr. Douglas walked up the street, Porter came across and started down River street. He walked along briskly, and when he reached the alley in the rear of the store he turned in and walked directly to a cellar window that he evidently knew was unlocked. It took but a moment to remove the screen and swing himself into the cellar, and from the basement entrance to the store was easy. Before Mr. Douglas had gone many blocks, Porter was behind the counter at work. He found the safe unlocked as it is always left, and soon he had the money drawer out on the floor. Just as his fingers closed about the crisp new five dollar bill that lay on the top of the cash in the drawer a key grated in the front door, and leaving the drawer where it lay, Porter hastened to hide under the counter, where fifteen seconds later Mr. Lowell found him.

Wanted Nothing But Money.

The safe contained $150 in cash, that being the day's receipts in the store, and that was evidently what Porter was after. In the show cases were boxes of knives, razors and revolvers, plunder that burglars are always glad to get, but Porter evidently had no idea of taking them, for cash seemed to be all he was after. It was a mere chance that Mr. and Mrs. Lowell came to the store as late as they did, and it was only a rushing business at the annex that had kept them out later than the usual closing time. Porter had timed his work nicely but he evidently forgot that Mr. Lowell had two stores and to that his capture is due. Otherwise the money would have been missing and doubtless some innocent person would have been suspected of the theft.

For a time it was not known how Porter got in and many thought that he must have been hiding in the establishment when Mr. Douglas locked up but later Chief Acheson and Officer Hogan got a lantern and found the place where he had entered and Porter confirmed their suspicions when questioned, by admitting that their deductions were true. He only got the $5 bill for his pains and that was recovered when he was arrested.

SAY PORTER IS NOT INNOCENT.

Police Say the Thief Has Been in Trouble Before.

Porter, the police say, is not the innocent victim of "hard luck" that he claims to be. This is not his first offense, they claim, and they say that his record was known to them very shortly after he came here from Chicago last spring. The officers have frequently been called to the family residence to keep Porter from beating his wife and little child. He claimed that his family were starving, which is doubtless true, but this is not, they say, because Porter could not secure work, but rather because he did not want to do manual labor, and much preferred to have the Associated Charities help them out, while he loafed about. When he did have work to do, it is said, he neglected it and one family who sent him a sofa to be repaired, had to send a drayman to get it, as Porter neither repaired or returned it. While at the jail yesterday morning, he bawled about and made a great fuss over his "misfortune" and careless straying from the virtuous path in which he had always traveled, but when Chief Acheson charged him with masquerading, he changed his tactics, and dropped his role of injured innocence.

Later in the day Porter's brother-in-law went down to see him, and shaking his fist at the imprisoned man, told him it was a good thing he was behind the bars.

"You have abused my sister enough," he said, and if you wasn't locked up, I think I could 'lick' you myself," he insisted. Mrs. Porter is said to be a young woman of only eighteen years of age. Her father, William Coats, of Brooklyn, Wis., came for her today and took her home with him.

WILL DAVIS' HOUSE WAS ROBBED Burglars Entered the Liveryman's Home Early Sunday Morning.

A burglar who evaded the searchers who got up to see what noise awakened them, succeeded in getting quite a little plunder at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis, 255 Prospect avenue, at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, after which he made his escape. When the family heard the noise they thought the girl was ill upstairs so Miss Rosa Davis, Mr. Davis' sister, called out and asked who was ill. She got no answer, and as no more noise was heard, they all went to sleep again. When they arose Sunday morning, however, they found things in high disorder. Drawers and closets had been ransacked and a wooden dress and a tea gown belonging to Miss Davis had been taken, while the servant girl's pocket book with $5 in it, was also missing. When Miss Davis was up, she saw a short person pass noiselessly by the door but thought it was Mrs. Davis. This morning Mr. Davis looked about the yard and found the heel marks made by the thief as he jumped from the porch roof and landed in the soft earth. The marks were made by a person with a small foot and were perfectly imprinted. Entrance was effected at a second story front window after two unsuccessful attempts had been made at the doors down stairs.

SAVE YOUNG WOMEN FROM MANY SNARES

WORKERS IN THE Y. M. C. A. TELL THEIR PLANS.

Miss Caryl Olds of Beloit and Miss Clara Morse of California Address a Large Congregation—Rev. S. P. Wilder Impressed by Boston's Welcome—Other Church News.

Two young women, very earnest in the work of the Y. W. C. A., talked to six hundred people in the Baptist church last evening. Four churches united, and Revs. E. H. Pence, A. Porter and S. P. Wilder sat beside Rev. Dr. Hodge on the platform.

Miss Caryl Olds, of Beloit, who is state secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, was the first speaker. She declared that it was not true, what so many thought, that young men were exposed to more temptations than young women. Girls had to meet every danger, and every temptation that could possibly befall their brothers. Janesville's Saturday night through furnished a text for a few remarks.

"I saw multitudes of young women passing up and down the streets," said the speaker. "I could see lines in their faces, could see looks about their eyes that told of a great lack in their lives."

The Y. W. C. A. was organized to meet one sort of conditions, the speaker said, just as the Y. M. C. A. was organized for another. Its growth was traced—first in the United States, then in England where an American secretary was sent at the request of English workers. France, Germany, Switzerland, Spain, Australia and India all have branches now and the circle is growing steadily.

"New Woman" is a Power.

Miss Olds was followed by Miss Morse, now of Los Angeles, but whose work while here was closely identified with the Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church. She said the "new woman" had been much talked of, but none could say she had not fulfilled her trust. Her advent into business life had made such a society as the Y. W. C. A. doubly useful. Along five lines the society worked—business, social, physical, mental and spiritual. It saved young women by keeping them safe from every form of mental and moral temptation. Figures were given to show how necessary such a work was in Los Angeles, but Janesville was held to need it quite as much. Too many young women were not attached to any church—too little attention was paid to the girls in factories and the girls employed at other confining work, who find Sunday their only holiday, and never had been led to think beyond the present.

Both Miss Olds and Miss Morse made strong impressions by their outlining of the Y. W. C. A. work.

Rev. S. P. Wilder Spoke of Boston.

Big bunches of golden rod and sun flowers flanked the Congregational pulpit Sunday. Rev. S. P. Wilder, just back from the east, preached on "Personal Impressions of the Great Boston Convention." While struck by many phases of the work that he saw under new conditions, he insisted that what impressed him most was Boston—"not what I heard in the convention not even the fact of the world as represented by Boston toward the convention. Recognition of the movement was not confined to the churches—the city itself had opened out. I received as never before an impression of the power of Christianity, when it is dead in earnest to make the world stop and think."

Next Sunday Rev. Mr. Sawin, formerly pastor of the church will occupy the pulpit.

Two New Members.

Two new members were admitted to Court Street church by Rev. Dr. Halsey at the Sunday morning service. Miss Margaret Jones took Mrs. Charles F. Yates' place in Court Street choir Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Victor E. Southworth met his congregation again yesterday after a month's vacation. In the mean time All Souls has been redecorated very handsomely. Miss Bertha Fross of Milton, Miss M. Frances Edwards, William Garbutt and Harry Robinson compose the new choir.

Medical Missions.

At the Presbyterian C. E. society Sunday the subject took the form of "Medical Missions" and those present were very much interested in a talk from one who has two near friends engaged in that work in Asia Minor. It gave the listeners an insight into the vast amount of good done by a medical missionary not only to the natives but also to the missionaries themselves.

Reception to Miss Morse.

The members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church are arranging for a reception to be given this evening in the parlors of the church in honor of Miss Morse. Her friends will be glad of this opportunity to meet her and are very cordially invited to attend. There will be a business meeting of the society Thursday evening after prayer meeting. A full attendance is desired.

A JANESVILLE MAN IN CHICAGO Chronicle Attributes a Cock and Bull Story to This City.

The Chicago Chronicle was a bit hard up for matter in their "Odd Tales of the Town" column yesterday, so one of their ambitious young gentlemen was delegated to evolve the following yarn, which is doubtless all true except the facts.

"The other night a man from Janesville, Wis., registered at the Tremont house. 'Mike' O'Brien, the chief clerk, asked him if he wanted a room with two beds. The man said he guessed not; that his boy could sleep in the foot of the bed, the same as he did at home when they had company. They were shown to the room. The next morning the man and boy came down to the office and asked O'Brien where the well was. The man supplemented this inquiry with the remark that he and the boy wanted to wash their hands and faces. O'Brien directed them to the wash-room. The man soon returned and said there was no washpan in the room. O'Brien had one of the attendants conduct the man to the lavatory and instruct him how to proceed. The old man proceeded to wash up, and then he led the boy to the bowl and gave him the benefit of a scrubbing in the old-fashioned way, scrubbing the youngster's face washing out his ears, the youngster yelling at each application. The attendant then handed the old man a towel which was under the home size, whereas the guest protested. He informed the attendant that he had no use for a dishrag and thereupon dried his face and that of the boy on his shirt sleeve. Having done this the man led the boy back to the office and asked what time they rang the bell for breakfast."

They carried a camping outfit and tent and put up for the night wherever darkness overtook them.

Merit Wins.

They say merit wins. We believe it. We have gone bag and baggage on the idea that people want reliable shoes. Shoes that will wear, hold their shape, shoes that have merit. When it comes to our prices as compared with the fake deals, the unquestionable advertised sales, the half price schemes they don't hold a candle to us when the quality is taken into consideration. Yours for merit, Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Summer Clothing Sale.

Next week we are going to give every one a chance to buy summer clothing at cost to us. We have thirty summer suits that we have marked way down low, that must go, and a stock of boys' and children's suits all sizes; pretty patterns that no parent can afford to pass by. We have room for our elegant line of fall suits, and make this cost offer to move everything out. Frank H. Baack.

LOWELL'S ANNEX.

MILL MEN ARE "SORE" ON GENERAL DOE

BIG FACTORIES CLOSED TO BENEFIT SCOWS.

Steamboat Traffic Held to Be Far too Small to Justify the Choking Off of Every Industry in the Entire Fox River Valley.

Bimeby, p'raps, Gen. Doe actually will do something to please some one, but just now the Oshkosh water-power men are greatly surprised and dissatisfied at Gen. Doe's decision forbidding the use of water until it reaches the crest of the Menasha dam, which is the minimum required by the government regulation.

The decision in effect cripples the milling interests until the close of navigation, probably, as the water is now about fifteen inches below the Menasha dam, and the inflow into Lake Winnebago no more than equals the evaporation. Steam plants are being installed at Appleton and below as rapidly as possible as the present season is an excellent one for paper, but it would be impossible to accomplish the turning out a full product by steam throughout the valley before winter.

The millmen resent the strictures upon their alleged shortcomings contained in Gen. Doe's order. His charges, they claim, are unjust and uncalled for. The one redeeming feature is that the lighting company will be permitted to use water and thus the city will not be dark.

The street car system is tied up and buses will have to be used. Altogether the manufacturers feel that the value of their interests and those of navigation being compared they have been hardly dealt with.

At Appleton the feeling is much the same and the "ginrals" orders was received by millmen with surprise and general dissatisfaction. They believe in equity they should have been afforded some relief in the shape of permission to use part of the water, and see in some of the mis-statements made in General Doe's review of the case the effect of the persistent misrepresentations of petty government officers at Oshkosh, who have all along showed unmistakable hostility to the water power interests. In many instances they have exceeded the orders of their superiors in arbitrary acts.

JOHN KELLY RIDES IN FRONT

Trotter and Pacer Has a Good Word For the Janesville Man.

The last issue of the Trotter and Pacer, a turf journal printed in New York city has the following paragraph: "John Kelly of Fleetwood Park, was very prominent in the summaries of the races at Poughkeepsie last Friday. He started East View in the 2:15 class and marched home three times in front with the brown gelding, in the last of which he took a new mark of 2:15. Futurity, another New York horse, owned by Mr. Jeremiah Murphy, was right up in second place in the last two heats. In the 2:35 class Mr. Kelly was not quite so successful with Prince Mansfield, having to take second place to Moment by Kentucky Prince, but the son of Mansfield won the second heat and reduced his record to 2:21 1/2."

FASHIONABLE TRIMMINGS.

Side Plaittings For Skirts—Sheer Materials With Silk Lining.

The plain skirt with the usual shape is an accepted standard. Skirts are as long as is comfortable or convenient. Among the new ideas in the making of skirts are trimmings of narrow side plaiting, such as were in great demand 10 or 12 years ago. The fabric is hemmed and closely pressed, and a single row of plaiting, with a heading of narrow gimp or a ribbon plaiting, will be a popular fashion for dresses for all occasions.

An attractive skirt has a very narrow side plaited ruffle, headed with a flat galloon stitched down very closely. Above this is a little ruffle made of strips of silk about 2 inches wide. This is gathered or box plaited in the middle and is set on in scallops about half the size of a coffee saucer. At each point there is a rosette of passementerie, with a tassel made of fringes of silk and beads. This is dressy and makes a simple and inexpensive finish for afternoon dresses.

A pretty idea for sheer gowns made up over a tinted silk lining is to have the bodice entirely of the lining silk. For instance, a skirt of pink linen trimmed with bands of openwork insertion is lined with pink taffeta, and the bodice and sleeves are of the same pink taffeta profusely trimmed with lace. Nearly all the skirts of thin gowns are assuming some sort of trimming. Bayadere stripes of lace insertion have the first place in favor, and after them come small muslin ruffles lined with taffeta, which are sewed on in points, scallops or any fanciful pattern that is preferred. This style of decoration is decidedly fashionable and is a revival of a style of trimming much worn over a generation ago.

The sketch shows a gown of gray and rose changeable glace silk. The godet skirt has a pointed panel of gulpure de venise set in on each side of the tablier, held at the top by a strap of pomegranate velvet set with buttons. The bodice forms a blouse in front, closing under a fold of velvet trimmed with guipure insertion. Pointed straps of velvet, fastened by buttons, radiate over the shoulders, and a velvet belt encircles the waist. The gigot sleeves are plain. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SUMMER TOILETS.

White Veils That Enrich the Oculist, Fashionable Gems.

White veils, neglected for some time, are again in the front of fashion and are generally becoming, although baffling to the vision of the wearer. Veils have occupied so much attention of late that nearly all varieties of weave and color are now procurable. The latest introduction, and a very becoming one, is a white Russia net with black chenille spots, preferable in many respects to the old fashioned white net with black spots so popular years ago.

Jewels are fashionable—not only paste buttons and buckles, but real gems, which can always put in a plea for the fashionable supremacy when glittering ornamentation is in vogue. Good taste and consequent lack of ostentation are now the guiding rule in regard to them, and small, refined specimens are preferred to anything conspicuous. Strings of small pearls are worn over high dark collars, and small brooches of brilliant or turquoise fasten the berthas or fichus of summer gowns.

Emeralds are in the very van of fashion. For many years they were little worn, but now they are the jewels of the day, or rather night, since they are seen then in greatest profusion.

Fashion demands that in dress toilets the sleeves shall terminate at the elbow. Moreover, there are indications of a reaction from the ubiquitous stock collar and high ruche, which shows itself in a tendency toward a slight, square décolletage not confined to full dress gowns.

Bright colors still predominate, and this fashion is a cheerful and pretty one when good taste guides the selection and combination of tints. It is to be hoped it will last indefinitely.

The illustration shows a seaside gown of plain cream crepon. The godet skirt is untrimmed. The bodice is gathered at the waist under a ribbon belt. A broad band of embroidery insertion outlines a square yoke, and from the lower edge fall a bertha and epaulets of accordion plaited mousseline de soie. The collar is adorned on each side with a large chon. The full sleeves end at the elbow. The yellow straw hat is trimmed with a drapery of mousseline de soie, and a tuft of reeds and poppies is placed at the back. A mousseline plaiting covers the brim. JUDIC CHOLLET.

RAILROADS THRIVE.

Eighty railroads have shown an increase in their gross earnings every week since May 1, varying from 4.02 per cent to 10.13 per cent; not taking the strike period into consideration. Last year the same roads reported a decrease every week during the same months over the year before, ranging 12.41 to 21.67 per cent, excepting the two weeks of the strike, which are, of course, useless for comparison. In order not to over-estimate the change in business, the public should remember that the present per cent of increase is estimated on last year's business, which was about double that per cent under the business of the year previous, so that the railroads are by no means enjoying the traffic they had in 1892, although they have every reason for expecting to attain it during the fall months.

Peffer has solved the question. "Let the farmers agree not to plant for one year, and the world will starve," he exclaims. The farmers as they stop to think of the certainty with which they would starve, too, under such an arrangement will wonder why they gave Peffer encouragement.

Even the elements appear to be propitious. The fire losses for July, 1894, were $17,307,000, while for July, 1895, they were only $9,085,000, with two exceptions the lowest amount destroyed during a single month in three years.

If Whitney hadn't done so much to get Cleveland a second term, he would have much more chance of a first term for himself.

Boise, Idaho, Aug. 12.—Information comes from Owyho county that the Bannock Indians, together with Duck Valley Indians, are going into the Juniper valley to slaughter deer. They killed 1,500 there last fall for their hides, and trouble was only averted by the Indians being called back to the reservation. The settlers announce they will not permit the Indians to kill game in the valley.

THIS HORSE.

Wasn't Much on the Road, but He Knew How to Hunt.

"I had a horse," said an old army man, "that had belonged once to the Seventh Cavalry, but he had the 'I C' brand under his mane, so he was out of the service. Inspected and condemned. He was a regular old plug, but he was all I could get to go hunting on, so I took him. I rode away out into the plains from the fort, and I saw a bunch of antelope finally. I got off the horse and dropped the reins on the ground, expecting the horse to stand there till I came back. I started off toward the antelope, and was sneaking along to get a shot, when I looked around, and I'll be blamed if that brute of a horse hadn't started off as tight as he could lope. 'Well,' says I, 'I guess I'm in for a six-mile tramp home.' I cursed that horse to myself for a while, and then I went on. Pretty soon I looked up, and I'm blessed if there wasn't that horse over the other side of that bunch of antelope. 'Well, now,' says I, 'I'd like to know what the devil that horse thinks he's up to, anyhow.' Pretty soon he began to circle around on the other side, and the antelope saw him and started off toward me. I caught on at once, and I lay down and waited. That old horse cut up the most surprising antics out there, and all the while he kept working those antelope toward me. By and by they got in range, and I got two; darned good luck it was, too. You see that horse was an old Indian hunting pony, and he had been trained to do that way. Well, I went back to the post, and everybody wanted to know how it happened I had such good luck. But I didn't tell 'em. Not then.

"A few days after I took the same horse out after prairie chickens. It was the time of the year when the chickens were flying, and I was riding along, when all of a sudden the critter stopped short, braced himself up and waited—for what I didn't know. But in a second a couple of chickens flew up ahead of me, and I was so surprised I didn't shoot. 'Well,' I says, 'I'll be switched. Here's a horse that's not only a hunting horse, but is a regular pointer dog, too.' And he was. I got my gun ready, and the next time he stopped I was right on hand and dropped a bird. Well, now, no sooner did that horse see that bird fall than he galloped off right to where it fell, and all I had to do was to reach off and pick it up. He was a great horse. I tell you, and I got lots of good hunting with him."

HIS BROKEN HEART.

The True Story of an Affectionate and Faithful Dog.

I wish to add to the many stories of the fidelity of dogs, an instance that occurred within my own knowledge and under my own eyes.

In my childhood a young man visited my father with a very fine dog, one so highly trained as to seem possessed of almost human intelligence. A friend, going on a hunting excursion, borrowed this dog for a few days, and during this time its master was seized with a sudden and violent illness, which ended his life in twenty-four hours.

When the dog returned, therefore, its owner was not only dead, but buried. The poor creature sniffed at its master's clothes and looked all over the house and the premises for him in the most wistful and pathetic manner.

At last, by some instinct, or by the exquisite keenness of his scent, he found out his master's grave and stretched himself upon it. There he stayed day and night, rarely quitting the spot except for an hour or so, when he would wander about restlessly and wistfully and then return to his station.

Finding that he would not stay anywhere else, we carried him food and a pan of water two or three times a day, but he barely touched either, and after a few weeks he died of a broken heart. We buried him at the foot of his master's grave, as was suitable in view of such tender and faithful affection.

If any dumb animal deserve immortality or be capable of enjoying it, surely that animal is the dog.

Women Are Not Defenseless.

Miss Mildred Holland recently gave a talk on fencing to the Professional Women's League of New York City. The lecture was forcibly illustrated by four young women in an athletic costume, who gave a practical exhibition in the art of fencing and showed themselves admirably proficient. During the course of her remarks Miss Holland said that the peculiar state of society in Italy during the sixteenth century made fencing a necessary art and one which they taught to other nations. Fencing is no longer necessary as a means of defense, although there is no measure of the use a parasol or umbrella may become in the hands of an expert fencer on occasions. "I leave you to supply the occasions," the lady added. It is all well enough for the peaceful man to turn his swords into plowshares, but let him be not un-mindful of other warlike weapons or a skillful thrust or blow from an innocent looking parasol may open his head to a clearer understanding of things. If this sort of female training continues we will have to take from our vocabulary the time-honored term, "defenseless women," and lay it away in lavender rose leaves with the other castoffs of the age of our grandmothers.

BEATING THEIR WAY.

How Three Syracuseans Enjoyed Themselves in a Large City.

Three newspaper men, having expended every other means of having a good time, took it into their heads to take a trip to Utica at 4 o'clock one morning of the past week. They first realized that they had no money, so they parted to borrow all they could, and to meet again at the first train. When they met again one turned in $8.50, the second $2, and the third nothing. They had borrowed it piecemeal, says the Syracuse Post. They got to Utica by the skin of their teeth in a palace car without paying for their seats. It was a case of save money. The first man had to shave, so he proffered the barber who had just opened his shop a $2 note in payment for a shave. The till was empty of change and the shave cost nothing. The second man found 25 cents in the toilet room of a hotel and lost an hour carefully searching every crack and cranny for another. Just this luck attended the trio throughout the day. The men met an old friend who early in the morning began to treat and who roped in more friends to do the same thing. More money was saved. When it reached dinner hour one of the party "jollied" a restaurant keeper out of three dinners. To end the day the men were told a story by an accommodating friend that more than paid for their railroad expenses when sold to the press. They returned to Syracuse the same afternoon with $11 between them. They had started with $10.50.

OMAHA'S MUDDLE.

Attempt Being Made to Settle the Trouble Amicably.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 12.—A proclamation was issued Saturday night by the new police commission, stating in effect that it is now ready to do business and ordering all officers and men in the fire and police departments to recognize the authority of the new board. William A. Paxton, a heavy property-owner, took a hand in the controversy yesterday in the role of mediator. It is reported he has induced members of the old and new boards to confer together and agree upon a state of facts which may be presented to the Supreme Court at once. Another story which is given credence in many quarters is to the effect that the A. P. A. board will meet, appoint a police force, and demand possession of the office and books, and if this is refused to attempt to take possession by force. The present police force is prepared to resist any attempt of this kind. It is likely, however, that the proposal for a settlement in court will be adopted.

Fence Carries Lightning.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 12.—In Finney county yesterday lightning struck a wire fence and killed twenty-five head of cattle. Eight hundred cattle were being driven through a narrow lane fenced in with wire. The storm's fury stampeded them, and while they were crowding against the metallic fence a bolt of lightning struck the wire. Every animal in contact was killed. The loss is estimated at $800.

Big Vein of Tin Ore.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 12.—A seven-foot vein of tin ore has been discovered in the Cascade mountains in the southwestern part of this state, near Mount St. Helens. It is reported by Capt. J. D. Hadley of this city, a prospector who made the discovery, that it is impossible to determine how deep the ledge goes into the mountain side, but he and his friends are enthusiastic and believe they have located tin enough to supply the country for years.

Missouri Railroad Assessment.

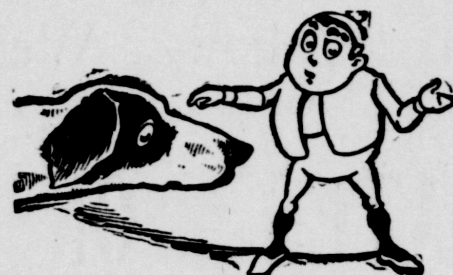

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 10.—State Auditor Zilbert has completed the tables showing the value and apportionment of railroad property as assessed by the Missouri state board of equalization for the taxes of 1895. The tables show a total assessment of railroad, bridge and telegraph property amounting to $74,441,554, an increase over the assessment of 1894 of $1,147,807.

Blood Stains on Keller's Trousers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 12.—Dr. John Gelliss of this city is making an analysis of blood stains found upon the trousers of Daniel Keller, who is under arrest with his wife and brother and sister, charged with the murder of Clara Shanks of Franklin county. On the trousers were also found some red paint, and it is charged that this was put over the blood stains to hide them.

DIPHTHERIA CASE IN THE CITY'S CARE

DETENTION HOSPITAL USED FOR THE FIRST TIME.

Henry Watson Comes Up From Chicago and Is Taken Sick—Campers Leave Crystal Springs—Water Saved At Drinking Fountains—Brief Local Notes.

HOSPITAL USED—Henry Watson is the first patient to go to the detention hospital. He came up from Chicago two weeks ago to visit friends, and Saturday noticed that his throat was very sore. Dr. Pember told him he had diphtheria, and had him taken to the hospital at once. The effort to maintain a quarantine at the Bahr home gives Officer Houghton hard work. One of the neighbors slipped in to make a neighborly call and had to be kept in quarantine with the rest of the family. Her husband who hadn't seen her in six weeks, came up from Chicago Saturday night and was surprised to find her not at home. She tried to join him by climbing a back fence, but the officer interfered and husband and wife had to do their visiting at long range.

COMPANY IS IN CAMP WITH FIFTY MEN

BOYS SETTLE DOWN FOR A WEEK OF SOLDIERING.

Many Improvements Have Been Made In the Grounds Since Last Year—How the Light Infantry Roster Looks—Notes of Camp Life.

Fifty Janesville soldier boys are on duty at Camp Douglas this week. They started at 8:45 Sunday morning while a throng of maidens stood around and mourned. Darlington and Monroe companies went up on the same train, three passenger coaches and two baggage cars being filled to the doors. One baggage car held five horses for field and staff officers. The other car was full of baggage and provisions. Beaumont De Forest sent up a bushel of sandwiches and half a cord of pies for the Janesville boys. He wasn't the only one to reap benefit. The newsboys never sold papers as fast as they did during the fifteen minutes the train had to wait for Company A to show up.

Company C of Whitewater joined the train at Milton Junction. There was no chance given for a repetition of last year's accident, in which a soldier had his skull smashed by a switch target. Guards were put at the door of every coach to keep men from passing through the train.

Janesville ice cream men have had all they could do since the scorching weather began. A big circuit of towns look to this city for supply and every express that leaves town takes a load of "freezers." As far as outside towns go Evansville is about as good a market as any for Janesville dealers, and one order this morning was for seventy-two gallons to be sent at once.

She was outclassed in speed, but she came back every heat and showed herself to be a game consistent race mare.

NEW ROLLER IS HERE AND EXPERT COMING

COUNCIL WILL PROBABLY CONSIDER THE MATTER TONIGHT.

Proposed Changes In the Fire Department to Provide a Place to Keep the Machine May Also Be Discussed—Weed Commissioner Noyes' Report Is Ready For Submission.

Important business will come before the council at their meeting tonight. One thing that will probably come up will be the matter of the proposed changes in the fire department in order that a place can be made in which to store the new street roller.

The big machine arrived this morning and is now at the depot. The company said they would send an engineer to adjust the bearings etc., but he has not yet arrived. The machine weighs fifteen tons when manned and coaled.

Another matter to be submitted will be the report of the Weed Commissioner Clement Noyes, which will be as follows:

TO THE HONORABLE, THE MAYOR AND COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF JANESVILLE—I herewith submit my report as weed commissioner of this city:

I found it to be somewhat difficult to enforce the law, owing no doubt to the fact that the law has not been enforced in former years. I found Canada thistles growing in several places in the outskirts of the city, all of which have been carefully looked after. I have served 44 legal notices on different parties, and I have been obliged to enforce fifty-one of them at an expense of $55.50, of which $55.17 is charged against the several parcels of land now on file at the city clerk's office to be added to the taxes, and thirty-three cents charged to the city for work done on city lots. I have been materially assisted by the city officials, viz., the city attorney, city clerk and city treasurer. I hand you herewith my bill for services rendered, thirty-four days at $2 a day—$68.

All of which is respectfully submitted. CLEMENT NOYES, Commissioner of Noxious Weeds.

A RACE FOR LIFE.

A Railroad in Montana Has a Close Call with a Band of Piegan Indians.

In August of '66 I was running a bull train between Helena and Fort Benton. After going about two miles I shot an old doe antelope, accompanied by two fawns, and I determined that I would have all three of those animals, and gave chase, firing whenever I could get within range, until I had exhausted my ammunition. This was before the days of breech-loading guns. I finally got the two fawns, and tied them on behind my saddle and started to catch up with the "train." I was as much as six miles behind, without a cap or a bullet, only two empty six-shooters and a rifle. I noticed that my saddle pony kept turning to the left. Finally I looked over that way myself, and could see the head and shoulders of a person down in the coulee. I spurred into a gallop, and in a moment could see that there were eight persons instead of one, and also that they were Piegan Indians in full war paint and feathers. They immediately gave chase, and for the next six miles occurred one of the most exciting races that I ever took part in. Seeing that the weight of the fawns was telling on the speed of my horse, I cut them loose, and at the same time threw away my overcoat, and taking the ramrod out of my rifle I used it as a whip and gained a little on my pursuers. The last two miles of the race was in plain view of the train. The train halted, and I supposed that one of the drivers would come to my assistance, but no relief came; they dropped their whips and jaws at the same time and waved their hats and hailed "Run!" I was doing the best I could. The Indians chased me to within about 150 yards of the train, when Bob Chesnut, now of Chesnut Valley, came in sight from the direction of Son river and opened fire on the Indians. They stopped chasing me and ran the other way. It never occurred to the drivers that they had guns until after Mr. Chesnut commenced firing.—Exchange.

ELECTRICITY IN A BIG CITY.

There Seems No End to the Uses to Which It Can Be Applied.

There seems no end to the enormous forward strides of electricity in all of its uses, but the advance it has made as a motive power here in Chicago within eighteen months have been almost revolutionary, says the News. Two years ago an elevated railroad run by electricity at the world's fair was a curiosity. Ten miles of elevated road are now operated daily in this city with electricity, and plans are afoot to use that motive power on all the "L" roads of the city. Scarcely has the public become aware of those plans until it transpires that the Illinois Central is considering the advisability of running its suburban trains by electricity. If this road should adopt the electric fluid and discard steam on its suburban service there seems every reason to believe that the experience of all other experimenters in that direction would be repeated; that the economy of electric over steam propulsion on this line, as on elevated and street car lines, would induce other roads to abandon the steam locomotive and adopt the electric motor. In hundreds of less evident ways electricity has supplanted steam as a motive power. Elevators, printing presses, and all kinds of small machines are driven by it all over the city. This revolution in motive power is of enormous significance to the whole people of a city like Chicago. About half the offenses of such a city come from the use of steam. Steam means smoke, noise, cinders, gases, waste-littered grounds. Electricity can be conducted and applied unknown to the sense of sight, hearing, and smell. Its general adoption on the railroads would involve an immense gain in cleanliness for the city. If it could be produced in properly constructed central stations and applied to all the wheels now turned by steam Chicago would instantly become almost a new city.

A SORRY BULLHEAD.

The Foolish Fish Interfered with a Water Motor and Came to a Bad End.

One little bull-head species of the cat-fish escaped from Lake McKusick some time since, and, no doubt, is sorry for it; we are, anyway. He came down the mains of the water company and floated up the pipes leading to our motor, where he stopped; so did our motor, presses, etc. He didn't use good judgment as he went into the motor tank first, just fitting so that he stopped the machine. Had he gone at it head first, the opening was such that he wouldn't have stopped the machine and called into active service the water works man and a machinist. He would have kept going round in such a lively manner, that in the course of time, his mother-in-law wouldn't have recognized him. Bob Butler thinks he had him on his hook once out in McKusick's Lake, when he was a boy—Bob, not the fish—judging from his antiquated appearance. Friday is without question the proper day for fish, but catching them in a water motor is mighty unprofitable business. We never did like fish, and we hate 'em worse than ever now.—Exchange.

A Question Not to Be Pressed.

Robert McLean, of Greensboro, N. C., was once practicing before Judge Tourgee, when he lost his temper at some ruling, and used some petulant expression. Instantly the judge said: "Mr. McLean, the court does not understand you. Do you mean to express contempt for the court?" Recovering his temper, McLean, balancing himself, said with the greatest good humor: "I hope your honor will not press that question."

Reconciliation.

"How on earth did that scheme of mine get out?" said the emancipated woman to her husband. "I told no one but you, and you promised to keep it to yourself."

His Strong Regret.

The tendency to remarry is very general among the Boers in the Free State and Transvaal, as the following story will show:

"A farmer had the misfortune to lose his fourth wife and wrote to his brother who lived some distance from him, informing him of the sad occurrence, also requesting his presence at the funeral. The funeral duly took place, and, on leaving the grave-side, the bereaved widower was accompanied by his sympathizing brother, who suddenly burst into heartrending tears and could not be comforted, whereupon the widower, touching him on the shoulder, cried: 'My dear fellow, don't weep! Be comforted in this my hour of trial. I have buried four wives, and they were all very good women; and I live in hopes to marry the fifth, who will no doubt be as good as the others.'

"Look here," sobbed the brother; 'don't think for one moment that I am crying over your lonely state. You're all right.' Then why your great distress' asked the widower. 'Well, you see, it's like this: You've buried four, and have already arranged for the fifth, while I'm still bound to the old original, whom I married twenty-five years ago!'"—Pearson's Weekly.

THE KINDLY LIGHT.

RELIGION AND REFORM THE WORLD OVER.

The Night of Life Has Blessings True—
Return to the Puritan Sabbath—Sermons from Bible Texts—Notes from the Ram's Horn.

THE evening heavens drooped on high;
My heart was drooping too;
I saw no stars; saw but the sky
Deep-dyed an ebon hue.
My heart revived; again aloft
I turned my glance, and there
A thousand stars shone clear and bright
And this message to me bore:

The night of life has blessings true
Whose beauties ne'er are seen,
While men note not the stars, but view
The darkness in between.

The Puritan Sabbath.
The Rev. W. C. Prince in a book entitled "Among the Northern Hills" rightly urges a return to the strict puritan methods of Sabbath keeping. He says:

"They greatly mistake who imagine that in the minds and memories of all children were brought up in the old-fashioned puritan ways of 'keeping' Sunday there is any pain or dislike to the day, produced by the rigidity with which we were made to keep it. But its memories are more deeply and more tenderly cherished by those children, now grown to be old men and women, than any memories of the other days. One day in seven the boy lived more or less in company not of this world. He thought it hard sometimes—often.

"But today, after fifty years in the work of the world, I challenge him, whoever he be, to answer you what part of his young life and young reading is most precious to him—what, if he must forget, would he desire now to retain longest? He will tell you that his memories of old Sundays at home, of Sunday mornings and Sunday evenings, of the church and its people, of family scenes, and books read with brothers and friends on Sundays are his most constant, most enduring, and most beloved subjects of memory.

"I do not take any stock in the common saying of this day that the puritan Sunday was injurious to the character of the children, because they so gladly escaped from its bonds into freedom that they went to the other extreme. I believe if you could poll the honest vote today of the sons of old Presbyterian, Episcopal, Congregational and other families, in which they kept Sunday in the most rigid puritan style, and who are now keeping it in the free-and-easy style of our time, they would be well nigh unanimous in saying that they would prefer to have their children taught to keep Sunday as they used to keep it, rather than brought up as now, practically without any severance between the life of the first day and the life of the other six."

Give Us Our Daily Bread.
(Give us this day our daily bread.—Matt. 6:11.)

Not bread for to-morrow, or next month, or next year, but bread for today. Our heavenly Father wants us to come to him every day, and get our bread from his hand fresh. He wants to have us talk to him daily about the things we need, as we like to have our children do with us. It is trying to get our bread too far in advance, without regard to God, that keeps the world full of sin and trouble. The man who robs a bank wouldn't do it, if he looked to God daily for his support. The saloon keeper and the gambler, the forger and the harlot, turn their faces toward the pit because they do not look to God for their daily bread. The man who asks God for his bread, will also ask his blessing upon the means by which he is to obtain it, and an honest prayer in the morning will be sure to end in an honest day's work. If we pray right, we shall be sure to do right. Another thing: When we make a true prayer for our own bread, we ask God to feed the world, and that makes it impossible to take a loaf from another that does not belong to us. To pray this prayer with the heart will make us brotherly, intelligent, prudent, economical and thoughtful. It will make us active in both hand and mind, compassionate toward the poor, and willing to make sacrifices for the good of others. No oaf or dishonest man can offer this petition.

Help Your Pastor.
"A minister who is worthy of the name can stand an empty purse better than an empty pew or an empty prayer meeting. It is a disgrace that failure to pay an honest salary should straiten a pastor's purse; but the spiritual emptiness afflicts his heart the most keenly. Perhaps your pastor is wondering what has become of you on the evenings of devotional meetings. The better man or woman you are the more you are blessed; the worse you are the more need to go. It may be that your pastor is heartened by the emptiness of your pew on the Sabbath. He has carefully prepared a discourse for your benefit; you have lost it; both he and you suffer from that absence. For one, I am ready to confess that I never made any converts to the truth in an empty pew, and never have delivered a sermon bold enough to awaken a parishioner who was dozing at home, or strolled off to some other church. If a good reason keeps you at home, try to send a substitute; invite some friend who seldom hears the gospel, to go and occupy your seat; your minister gets a hearer, and the hearer may get what will save his soul. Church members sometimes complain that their minister does not 'draw' larger congregations; yet they do not draw outsiders to the house of God by a cordial invitation to come, help your pastor to fill the house."—Rev. Theo. L. Cuyler.

Charity of Speech.
Charity of speech is as divine a thing as charity of action. To judge no one rashly, to misconceive no man's motives, to believe things as they seem to be until they are proved otherwise, temper judgment with mercy—surely is quite as good as to build up churches, establish asylums and found colleges. Unkind words do as much harm as unkind deeds. Many a heart has been wounded beyond cure, many a reputation has been stabbed to death by a few little words. There is a charity which consists in withholding words, in keeping back harsh judgments, in abstaining from speech, if to speak is to condemn. Such charity hears the tale of slander, but does not repeat it; listens in silence, but forbears comment; then locks the unpleasant secret up in the very depths of the heart. Silence can still rumor; it is speech that keeps a story alive and lends it vigor.

How to Read.
Mr. Hamilton W. Mabie in a recent article in The Bookman on "Books and Culture," thinks the majority of people have not learned how to read. They read for information or for refreshment, when they should read for enrichment. He says: "What is essential to culture is a deeper knowledge obtained by appropriating the best thoughts of others so that they become a part of ourselves. This knowledge is not merely something added by the memory; it is something possessed by the soul. A pedant is formed by his memory; a man of culture is formed by the habit of meditation, and by the constant use of the imagination. A man of receptive mind and heart, meditating on what he sees, and getting at its meaning by the divining rod of the imagination, discovers the law behind the phenomena, the truth behind the fact, the vital force which flows through all things and gives them their significance. The first man gains information; the second gains culture."

"To get at the heart of books, we must live with them and in them; we must make them our constant companions. The reading of a real book ought to enlarge the vision, deepen the base of conviction, and add to the reader whatever knowledge, insight, beauty and power it contains. . . . Some readers see only a flat surface as they read; others find the book a door into a real world, and forget that they are dealing with a book. The real readers get beyond the book into the life which it describes."

We Must Be Born from Above.
(Be partakers of the divine nature.—2 Peter 1:4.)

But how does the fallen man receive the divine nature? What must he do to be born of God? How can he have such a change effected in his nature that he will keep the law because he loves the Lawmaker? It comes through giving up sin and receiving Jesus Christ. "As many as received him (not an admiration for his life, or character; or somebody else's opinion of him, but him—for all that the soul needs, and all that the Bible says he is—Prophet, Priest and King) to them gave he power (privilege, right) to become the sons of God, even to them that believe (present tense—not in a past age, but now) on his name." And this is the only process by which any one ever has, or ever will be born again. "For there is none other name under heaven (no other way) given among men whereby we must (can) be saved." "He that believeth is not condemned already (not because he has been committing sin all his life, but) because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God." Keep this thought always in mind, that the thing which makes people unfit for heaven, is to reject the Spirit of God which was brought into this world by Jesus Christ and this is done every hour that we reject his divine government. God blames no sinner for doing sinful things, but he condemns him for retaining a sinful nature when it is so easy to be delivered from it.

Echoes from Other Anvils.
Epworth Herald: The fashionable dancing school is as good a kindergarten as the devil cares about.

Reformed Church Messenger: A wise and holy rule for our neighbor's faults: this: To speak of them to God and forget them before men.

Cumberland Presbyterian: The chief danger to the cause of Christianity is not the attacks of its enemies, but the unfaithfulness and inconsistencies of its friends.

The Voice: The railroads continue to prohibit employees from drinking, but congressmen and state legislators may freely imbibe. Is running a railroad train more important than running a state?

Religious Telescope: Paying only fifty cents a year to aid the cause of missions by a rich man does not go a great way in the direction of convincing his neighbors that he is sincere when he says, "Thy kingdom come."

Religious Herald: Enjoyment of God's word is proportional to our understanding of it. The Bible is not a book to be worshipped simply as an idol. It is not a charm or talisman. It is a message direct from our Heavenly Father, expressing his will concerning us and his love toward us, and we come to know and love him, apprehend all his thoughts toward us, only by giving a clear knowledge of this heaven-sent message. Then let us study it, delve into its apparent mysteries and we shall "grow thereby."

The Walk to Emmaus.

Jesus can sometimes tell us more in an hour of sadness than in one of joy. If we would know what God told Daniel we must not be afraid of lions.

When we tell Jesus what we know, he will tell us what we ought to know.

Christians get along faster when they travel in pairs.

To fill the church with joy today, it is only necessary to show what the Bible says of Christ.

Jesus walks with everyone who is sad on his account.

The man who is interested in Christ will not long find the Bible a sealed book.

When we open the Bible anywhere, we should pray that we may see the face of Christ.

He told them things they were glad to tell to others. The man who carries God's message has wings on his feet.

Jesus knew they were sad, but he also knew there was no reason for their being so.

Enoch walked with God three hundred years, and yet he walked into the next world without telling us a thing God said.

The disciples walked with Christ a few miles, and made us rich by what they have handed down.

Let two Christians walk together anywhere, and they will be sure to have the company of Christ.

Blessed to Be a Blessing.

"God blesses you that you may be a blessing to others. Then he blesses you a second time in being a blessing to others. It is the talent that is used that multiplies. . . . In- less one gives . . . full and proud and . . . best of your life in the Master's name for the good of others. Lend a hand to every one who needs. Be ready to serve at any cost those who require your service. Seek to be a blessing to every one who comes for but a moment under your influence. This is to be angel-like. It is to be God-like. It is to be Christ-like. We are in this world to be useful. God wants to pass his gifts and blessings through us to others. When we fail as his messengers, we fail of our mission."—J. R. Miller, D. D.

What It Means to Live.

To a miser, it means to first get a barrel of money, and then have famine come.

To a society girl, it means dresses, parties and a round of selfish pleasure.

To the poet, to be in another world that touches this.

To the scholar, it means to feed forever upon facts.

To the criminal, to have his own way and yet keep out of prison.

To an artist, to give to others the beautiful forms that have been given to him.

To the worldling, everything that can be put into the present moment.

To the Christian, what he can know better than he knows about else, and yet cannot tell with a tongue of flesh.

To Christ, it meant to suffer and die to save a lost world.

Reader, what does it mean to you? Write out your definition, and then sit down and look yourself in the face.
